WOLFF QUILTS
MOOSE POST

Dewey E. Wolff, 62, secretary of the local Moose lodge for the last 5 1/2 years, Thursday night resigned for reasons of health.

The Table Rock resident, who also serves as tax collector for Butler Twp., submitted his written resignation which was read by Chester Steffin, state Moose director.

Wolff asked that the resignation be effective March 1 "or when a successor is named." He expects to enter a Bethesda hospital about March 3 for treatment of a tumor.

The lodgeman said he resigned rather than take a leave of absence because he does not know how long he will be hospitalized and plans to "take it easy" after his return.

He was elected secretary of the Moose in November 1954 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles L. Lauer, who had been secretary of the lodge from almost its inception until his death.

Steffin said that under new regulations of the lodge the officers will accept applications for the post and will submit one name to the lodge.

Century-Old Sickles-Key Tragedy
Vicious Homicide Stuns Social and Official Washington

By Leighton C. Taylor

This story has to do with "The Horrible Washington Tragedy" so characterized by the press—an outburst of personal revenge unparalleled in the history of our nation's Capital.

Because of the background and prominence of its two leading characters, Daniel Edgar Sickles and Philip Barton Key, the tragedy attracted nationwide attention.

Below is Sickles' biography as it appears in the Biographical Congressional Directory. The publication of this Directory began with the convening of the first Congress, and contains the biography of every United States senator and representative since the inception of the government. I am reciting General Sickles' biography in full as it appears in the Directory for the reason that it is a good example of how a researcher looking for the "real" Sickles would be handicapped by intentional omissions. Yet this volume is supposed to be an authentic and comprehensive record for reference purposes.

Sickles' Biography
Daniel Edgar Sickles, a representative from New York; born in New York City October 20, 1825; attended New York University; apprenticed as a printer; studied law; was admitted to the bar.

"MUSTERDAY"
FOR GUARD ON NEXT MONDAY

Adams County's National Guard unit will mark "Muster Day" Monday by reverting to a tradition that goes back into the early days of the nation's history.

The members will march from their armory to Lincoln Square at 9 o'clock Monday night and there the roll will be called, just as it was called on muster days held for the militia in the town back in its early history.

Lt. Donald E. Doersom, commander of the local Howitzer Battery, 2nd Reconnaissance Squadron, 104th Armored Cavalry, said all former members of the company are invited to join the unit Muster Day observance.

Weather permitting the names of all 341 men who have been members of the local Governor's Troops unit will be called. The 341 represent the present membership plus the men who served in the unit since its establishment April 30, 1947.

Lt. Doersom in announcing plans for Monday's Muster Day program also announced that the local guardsmen have been paid more than $39,000 during the last year. He said the annual records compiled by Sfc. Earl L. Topper, the administrative assistant to the battery commander, shows the pay to the Guardsmen for drills this year the largest total in the history of the outfit. The members receive fees for attending drill that range from a low of $2.70 per night for recruits to more than $12 per night.

TEACHER FROM LIBERIA TALKS
AT ST. JAMES

"Great changes are taking place in Africa. These are the results of roads, industries and the influence of the Christian church," the Rev. Harold Whetstone, a teacher in the Lutheran Training Institute in Liberia, told the Women of St. James Lutheran Church at their quarterly general meeting in the church dining room Thursday evening. He continued:

"April 5, 1960, will mark the 100th anniversary of the work of the Lutheran Church in Liberia. Morris Officer, with a companion, was the first Lutheran missionary in Liberia, arriving there April 5, 1860. He met with little success in establishing a Christian school. Finally, he started his school with 20 boys and 20 girls who had been returned to Monrovia on a slave ship.

"The Christian church did not introduce education to the African natives as they had their own bush schools, training their boys and girls in tribal customs. The Christian church gave to the Africans the fourth 'R'—religion—in addition to the fundamental three 'R's'.

More Republics Now

"Christianity has made more progress in Africa than on other continents, eight to 10 per cent of the population of the African continent being Christian compared with one per cent in Asia. "It is the educated African who is demanding independence, and not the natives living in the villages. The Christian religion had an influence in this desire for

Week's 2nd Snowstorm
Downs Utility Lines, Ices
Roads; Some Schools Close

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy snow, strong winds and rain lashed wide sections of the South and East today, a virtual repeat performance of winter's second violent climatic attack in less than a week.

The stormy weather, erupting in the Southland, swept northward into the East, following the pattern of the blockbuster which ripped across the eastern quarter of the nation last weekend.

Snow piled up more than a foot high in Kentucky and Tennessee and Virginia.

Tornadoes skipped across sections of Louisiana, Florida and North Carolina. Winds up to 80 m.p.h. pounded western Virginia, piling huge drifts of heavy, wet snow.

Winds Pound Gulf States

Gale-force winds battered the Gulf States and veered northeastward. Gale warnings were displayed along the Atlantic Coast from Daytona Beach, Fla., to d'Estport, Maine.

Sections of Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia were virtually paralyzed by the heavy snow.

The snow belt stretched from northern Alabama across much of the South. Moderate to heavy snow fell from eastern Tennessee and Kentucky northeastward over inland areas of the Northeast.

Heavy Property Damage

Property damage throughout the storm belt was extensive. Hundreds of autos and trucks were marooned.

Schools were closed in many states, including North Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio and West Virginia.

Power and communication service was disrupted. At least three communities in eastern North Carolina were without power service. Tornado winds hit Charlotte, snapped utility poles and caused thousands of dollars damage to parked autos.

George Forney, local athletic director, also announced today that the Junior High-Biglerville game at Biglerville, scheduled for Tuesday, has been put back until Wednesday in order to give the local cagers a day of rest.

MAJ. GEN. DANIEL EDGAR SICKLES

QUEEN ELIZABETH

DIRKSEN SAYS DEMOCRATS GOING TOO FAR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said Thursday Democrats have gone too far with what President Eisenhower called "despicable" criticism of the administration's defense program.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said he thinks the critics Eisenhower denounced without naming at Wednesday's news conference "have been hearing from the people." He added they are likely to hear more when Eisenhower appears on a national television broadcast Sunday night.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, said in a separate interview he welcomes what he called Eisenhower's decision to "explain the confused defense picture."

Sees Tapering Off

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference whether he thinks the administration has misled the American people in any way or whether any money has been withheld from any needed weapon. He replied:

"If anybody — anybody — believes that I have deliberately misled the American people, I'd like to tell him to his face what I think about him. This is a charge that I think is despicable."

In Richmond, Va., Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) one of the most outspoken critics of administration defense policy, said "I don't know anybody who said the President has misled the people."

But he told a news conference he would speak out in the Senate again next week "to give more facts" about defense. "I believe the American people should have all the facts that won't help our enemies," he added.

Dirksen said Democrats have to take the responsibility for making statements that "reflect on the state of our defenses."

Cermak Assassination

"Fifty years ago there were two republics in Africa, Liberia and Ethiopia. At the end of World War II there were two more, the Union of South Africa and Egypt. Now there are 11, with the possibility of two or three more soon coming into existence. "The Lutheran church in Liberia has 17 elementary schools with 1,000 pupils. Boys far outnumber girls, only 16 girls among 84 students in the high school where I teach. The English language is used in the schools because there are so many tribal tongues."

Mr. Whelstone, who is living with his family in the Lutheran Missionary Furlough House on Springs Ave., had on display a great number of African articles, including hand-woven cloth, an oil painting of an African village, figures carved from ebony, ivory, horn and red wood, and articles made of rice straw.

The program included a piano prelude by Mrs. Paul L. Reaser and Miss Margaret Howard, leader of the Dorcas Circle, conducted devotionals and received the offering. A motion picture, in color and with sound, "New Faces in Africa," was shown by Richard Lighter.

Mrs. C. C. Culp, president, introduced the speaker and presided at a short business session, during which Miss Aurelia Spence, recording secretary, called the roll of the circles, and Miss Irene Day gave a report of the nominating committee of which she is chairman.

All officers who are now serving were nominated: Mrs. Culp, president; Mrs. K. O. Deardoff, Mrs. J. Luther Wisler, Mrs. Paul Sheffer and Miss Vestal Stall-smith, vice presidents; Miss Spence, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard Lighter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Katherine Rightmyer, statistical secretary; Mrs. Carl Prosser, treasurer. Trouble Last Night

The first reports of storm trouble started to come in Thursday night about 10 o'clock while area telephone companies employees were gathered at the new phone company building here for an "open house." Some of the servicemen remained on "inside" duty through the night while repair crews were sent out at dawn.

Caldwell asked prompt reports on service trouble so that lines can be kept in use. Storm damage reported to noon today was expected to be cleared away by "some time Saturday," the manager said.

REA Service Cut

The Adams Electric Cooperative (REA) reported considerable damage.

An official said that a number of homes were cut off from service when ice-laden lines broke under the heavy weight and tore wires from homes. The same occurred when trees, and ice-crusted branches cracked and broke, falling on wires and tearing them down. The damage was sporadic and spread over a wide area.

Four crews, comprising 19 linemen, started repairing the damage at 9 o'clock Thursday night and restored service. It was said this morning that the service is expected to be restored to normal before dark this evening.

Trouble was also reported in York and Cumberland counties and crews were dispatched there to repair the damage.

A cooperative spokesman said he could not estimate the amount of damage.

A 175-mile stretch of the Pennsylvania Turnpike was closed temporarily today leaving hundreds of motorists stranded in the wake of a paralyzing snow storm.

Powerlines were torn down across the state and at least one person was left dead.

Deep snow and huge traffic tie-ups forced officials to shut down the turnpike between Irwin and Carlisle.

The Weather Bureau said the worst was over and forecast only light snow today in eastern Pennsylvania and flurries in other parts except for the mountainous areas and possibly northwestern Pennsylvania.

But the bureau cautioned driving would be hazardous over the weekend since no immediate thaw is expected.

The late winter storm, the second within six days ripped through the state Thursday night. It dumped heavy snow in western Pennsylvania while pelting the eastern portion with snow, rain and strong winds.

Hardest hit area in the state was Somerset in western Pennsylvania where the storm piled on eight inches of new snow, bringing the total accumulation to 18 inches.

There were numerous traffic jams in the Somerset area. One stretched from the Somerset interchange to the Laurel Hill Tunnel, tying up eastbound traffic for about nine miles. Another tieup occurred at the Allegheny Tunnel.

Open Bureau For Small Businesses

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence today established a Business Services Bureau to provide technical aid for the state's smaller firms.

The governor told his weekly news conference that by assisting smaller firms "we are helping them grow and thereby creating more employment opportunities in all regions of Pennsylvania."

Lawrence named George C. Winterling, 50, of Lancaster, to head the new bureau, which will be located in the Commerce Department. He formerly was president of the Amity Finance Co., of Lancaster.

Fred Glover, the league's leading scorer, fattened his margin with two goals and two assists. Don Hogan also picked up two goals and one assist and Earl Ingfield, who had three goals Tuesday, came up with three assists.

7 COUNTIANS GIVEN AWARDS IN CORN CLUB

Seven countians were presented with ribbon awards they won in the state Five-Acre Corn Club at a meeting of the club at the Adams Electric Cooperative building Thursday evening.

Two countians who have won top honors in the state contest received their awards at Harrisburg during the Farm Show. They were Calvin Bream, Gettysburg R. 2, who won the first honors in the state with a yield of 164.7 bushels of shelled corn per acre and Charles King, York Springs R. 1, who was fourth in the state with a yield of 159.6 bushels of shelled corn per acre.

Those who received blue ribbon awards Thursday night were Roy Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4, and Kenneth Taylor, Biglerville R. 1. Weaver had a yield of 156.6 bushels per acre and Taylor 154 bushels per acre.

Other Winners

A red ribbon was presented Donald Leer, York Springs R. 1, whose cornfields produced 140.3 bushels of shelled corn per acre.

White ribbons were given to Clay Snyder, Gardners R. 1, with a yield of 119.9 bushels; Thomas Murren, Hanover R. 4, 113 bushels; Howard Waybright and son, Gettysburg R. 1, 109.3 bushels and Richard Slaybaugh, Biglerville R. 1, 107.2 bushels per acre.

Calvin Bream spoke on his corn raising methods. He said that soil testing is "extremely important in determining exactly what your soil needs to produce a good crop of corn. The right variety must be used along with adequate plant population. Controlling weeds is another important step in growing the top yield of corn."

Plant population for the fields of the winners showed Bream had the highest, 21,500. King had 20,300. The plantings in the fields of the ribbon winners varied from 14,333 to 16,833.

George Berggren Speaks

George Berggren, Extension Crop Specialist from Pennsylvania State University, said proper placement of adequate amounts of fertilizer "is essential for an efficient corn crop." He advocated either drilling down deeper or plowing down: the larger part of the fertilizer and banding the starter fertilizer two inches to the side and two inches below the placement of the corn. He also discussed the use of chemical weed killers in controlling weeds.

BIGLER SCOUTS

George Sunbury assisted in the presentation.

A movie entitled "Happy Game and Fair" describing the life of a boy through Cubbing was presented with Jack Emanuel as the projectionist.

Rodgers gave a brief talk on the work of Scouting and also commended the leaders including the den mothers of Cub Pack 71. Dr. Waybright R. Thomas, pack committee chairman, served as toastmaster.

THINK AUTOPSY WILL EXPLAIN FISCHER DEATH

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The results of an autopsy are expected to explain how the estranged wife of a millionaire industrialist died.

The body of Mrs. Helen Drummond Fischer, 55, was found Wednesday in her home near here, but her death was not made public until Thursday. There was no explanation of the delay.

Dr. Wilmer S. Trinkle, Bucks County coroner, said an autopsy performed Thursday failed to establish the cause of death. He said bruises on her face could mean she was hit or fell.

Her husband, Kermit, 54, who lives on a farm near here, was to go on trial next Tuesday on a charge of assault and battery brought last June by his wife.

Dist. Atty. Paul R. Beckert of Bucks County said:

"At my request and the request of the state police an autopsy was performed on the body of Mrs. Fischer at Doylestown Hospital Thursday afternoon."

"The microscopic examination and autopsy is not yet completed and there will be no result announced before Friday."

Mrs. Fischer's body — fully clothed except for her shoes — was found by William L. Goldman, of Doylestown, her lawyer. He said he went to her estate because she failed to keep two appointments.

She was lying on the living room floor. There was no sign of violence.

Dr. Trinkle said nothing was missing and Mrs. Fischer had been in good health. She was last seen alive Saturday, he said.

Her husband is president of Fischer and Porter, a Hatboro firm which makes industrial instruments. He said he last saw his wife in November, in Bucks County Court, during support proceedings. He was paying his wife $435 a month.

LYNN, Mass. (AP) — An 83-year-old man who fished coins out of church poor boxes with rubber cement and a string has been sentenced to six months in jail. Albert Belmonte of Boston was convicted Thursday of stealing from a poor box at St. Jean's church. Police said he scorned old age assistance, but stole from poor boxes for half a century.

STATEMENT IN MURDER CASE COMING TODAY

By TOM HORGAN

BOSTON (AP)—A statement attributed to Willem Van Rie concerning a row with Lynn Kauffman is due to be submitted today to the jury hearing the murder trial of the handsome ship's radio operator.

The statement admits Van Rie, 31, was in Miss Kauffman's cabin and hit her at approximately the same time he is accused of throwing the young woman overboard and to her death.

This purported confession is contained in a statement Boston Police Capt. Joseph B. Fallon says he obtained from Van Rie in New York while the Dutch freighter Utrecht was tied up there last November.

State Move Balked

An effort was made by prosecution Thursday to introduce it, but the move was balked temporarily by the defense, which contends the statement was made under duress.

The statement quotes Van Rie as saying "Capt. Fallon, I finally realize that with the evidence they have, they could convict me in this case. Those kids from St. Louis (passengers in nearby cabins) knew I was in the cabin."

It continues: "I am going to make a statement but it won't be a true one. I will say I was in the cabin, but I wasn't there."

Quoted Van Rie

At this point the statement indicated Fallon declined such a statement and continued quoting Van Rie:

"I had been in the cabin to visit her, to see how she was. I thought she might be sick because of possible pregnancy. And she said, 'What if I were?' She got angry. I raised my hands and hit her. Not on purpose, on the head and face. I didn't mean to."

In preceding testimony before the jury, police officers who questioned him testified Van Rie told them his relations with the petite 23-year-old divorcee began when the Utrecht was nine days out of Singapore, on a 44-day passage to Boston, and that it was she who made the first advances.

Miss Kauffman disappeared from the Utrecht as the ship left Boston the evening of Sept. 18. Her body was found next day on a harbor island. A medical examiner's autopsy report listed numerous injuries of a blunt nature and that her death by drowning was consistent with homicide.

Warriors Keeping Their Hopes Alive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Syracuse Nationals' hopes of beating the Philadelphia Warriors out of second place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn. still are alive.

The Nats moved within five games of the runnerup spot Thursday night when they came from behind for a 136-122 decision over the Warriors after the division leading Boston Celtics wiped out a 15-point fourth period deficit and beat the New York Knicks 109-194. The two games were played as a doubleheader at Syracuse.

Syracuse and Philadelphia each has 11 games to play with only one to go against each other. The Warriors have won seven of their 11 clashes with the Nats.

Bird nests are sometimes found in Hawaii made from threads of spun volcano glass which birds pluck from droplets of lava.

Nice Straw Hats For Okla. Convicts

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Convicts at the Oklahoma State Prison at McAlester will work under the hot summer sun in style.

They'll be wearing expensive straw hats—thanks to the Highway Patrol.

The patrol ordered 280 straws for their patrolmen for use last summer. Only about one in five would fit and they were packed away.

A new order was placed for western-style felt hats for winter use. Commissioner Ray Page says they'll become part of the official uniform next week. For 25 years Oklahoma patrolmen have worn caps.

Learns Husband Is Prisoner In Germany: Mrs. Ira A. Caldwell,

Today's Talk
PEOPLE, THE GREAT EXAMPLE
Much as we learn from books, and careful observation, just to study people is the greater art, one that leaves a trail of new knowledge behind. I have sat with small groups and large ones and kept learning. I have learned most from the silent ones who also gave me an example of politeness and pride of character. There is a great contrast between what some merely talk about and what Dr. Samuel Johnson called "good talk." Johnson drove many a mere talker out of his presence, while the wise ones stayed behind to gather up the crumbs of that "good talk" that many a future day might be nourished thereby.
Is there anyone so talkative that good talk soon is smothered? If you want to be heard at talk keep as silent as possible and exercise your hearing gifts! Nothing is so pleasant as to listen to one who is interested in hearing more than a mere chatter of dead ideas, or perhaps one who never learned to think. Silent companions are such kindly folks. Their pleasure is yours, as well.
A great figure in the literary life of America was silenced when Bob Davis left it. He had gathered the gold of knowledge from every quarter of this globe, and no one ever left his presence without being the better and wiser because of his magic talk.
I wish there could be another world right near our own, that Bob Davis might pour the beauty of his soul all about us. He would enrich it anew!
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Face Value" Protected, 1960, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks
THE WORLD AND YOU
You grumble and whine at the world and its ways;
You dwell on the faults that you see.
You say that life brings you too many dark days
And it's not what it really should be.
You remember the mean and the petty and base
That you've met as you traveled your way;
You chafe at the grind and the toil and the pace
And forever inquire: "Does it pay?"
Suppose that the world had a voice and could speak
Its opinion of me and of you?
Could it not lament, too, much wherein we are weak,
And sneer at the things that we do?
Do you think it would say that we are all we should be
And cheer us again and again,
Or, forgetting all virtues, continue to see
But the meanness and smallness of men?
You whimper and whine that the world is all wrong,
But somehow you seem to forget
The smiles and the laughter, the mirth and the song,
And the kind-hearted people you've met.

Highway Dept. Here Praised For Winter Job: State highway department workmen, whose biggest job since before Christmas has been clearing snow from more than 300 miles of main and secondary roads in the county, are opening the last two stretches of highway that remained closed by drifts for more than a week.
Approximately 100 men — 15 of them equipment operators — have been working for weeks on snow removal on the 213 miles of main roads and 97 miles of secondary highways. Day and night shifts with the snow plows have worked steadily to keep the main roads open — and with the result that during the worst of the drifting no main highways in the county were closed to traffic.
The regular maintenance crew handled the work, Supt. J. William Kendiehart Jr., said, and added that this has been the worst winter for snow removal within the nearly six years he has been head of highway maintenance work here.

AMISH REMAIN STEADFAST ON SCHOOL STAND
MORGANTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Walk into this Pennsylvania Dutch country and you'll find nine Amish families refusing to budge from their religious convictions concerning schooling despite imminent prosecution.
They steadfastly refuse to enroll their children in a new two-million dollar public junior-senior high school because they consider it too worldly for their young. "The parents will go to jail until we get a settlement. And if we don't get a settlement there's been talk of moving on,"
Chairman Has Answer
The words come from Aaron E. Beiler, chairman of the Amish Churches' School Program in Pennsylvania. This is his answer to school officials.
In the latest development in the long controversy, a school official said he would sign warrants to said he would sign warrants charging the families with violation of Pennsylvania's Compulsory School Attendance Law.
Albert U. Eberts, supervising principal of the Twin Valley School District, disclosed he presented Wednesday night to a justice of the peace information on which to base the warrants.
"The families will have a hearing one day next week," said Eberts. "We've given them enough time to comply."
They face fines of $2 for the first offense and $1 for each successive offense. In lieu of the fines they face a jail sentence not to exceed five days.
Fear Of Misleading
The 18 children were withdrawn from the school when it opened last September. The parents felt their children would be led away from the customs and mores of the simple, austere Amish life.
In addition, they said the school, 10 miles away from their homes, was too far. They offered a compromise plan for a school of their own or a vocational program for the children.
Last year the children attended a small separate school in nearby Honey Brook. It has been closed. They now are getting their schooling from an Amish teacher, a half a day a week in a farm house.
School officials last week sent the parents letters telling them that if they did not have their children back in school by Tuesday they would face prosecution. None showed up.
They proclaimed: "Our faith is older than our government."

Emmitsburg
MRS. RALPH LONG
Hillcrest 7-2231
EMMITTSBURG — The February meeting of the Mother Seton School PTA was held in the school cafeteria Thursday with President Carmel Kelly presiding. The meeting opened with a prayer by Sister Ann Marie and the group pledge of allegiance to the flag. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report, the president reminded the group that only 27 per cent of the membership dues had been paid. The minutes from the last executive meeting were also read.
It was moved and seconded that another refresher course be given the parents in arithmetic for grades four through eight. Mrs. Daniel Lind volunteered to inquire about the use of St. Anthony's lobby for the children waiting for the bus in bad weather.
A committee composed of Mrs. Gilbert Oddo, chairman, and Mrs. Donald Waters, assisting, was named to inquire about the possibility of getting the bookmobile to come to Emmitsburg.
The group decided to abolish the mission fair usually held in March. In its place the children will be asked to give a penny a day for the 40 days of Lent and the returns will be given to the Bishop's Relief Fund. A letter was read from the fourth grade thanking the PTA and SRA reading laboratory kits.
Guest speaker of the evening was Fr. John Smith, spiritual director, Mt. St. Mary's Seminary. Fr. Smith spoke on the "Purpose and Beauty of the Dialogue Mass" and showed a film on the mass. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

President Attends Annual Breakfast
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower took part silently Thursday morning in a prayer breakfast with some 700 Christian laymen from over the country.
A spot had been reserved on the program for some brief, informal remarks by the President. But at that point the program was behind schedule, and Eisenhower had to leave to meet at the White House with the National Security Council.
This was the Eighth Annual Presidential Prayer Breakfast under sponsorship of the International Christian Leadership Organization. Members of the Supreme Court, Cabinet, Congress and the diplomatic corps attended.

SAY BODIES OF FIVE IN DESERT MISSING CREW
WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—A U. S. Army mortuary team sent word Thursday that five bodies found in the Libyan Desert are undoubtedly linked to the World War II "ghost" bomber discovered last year 500 miles from the North African coast.
Reports to U. S. Air Force headquarters here said this was established in a first, quick inspection of the bodies found by an oil company crew earlier this month.
Two mortuary experts, Capt. Myron C. Fuller, of Placerville, Calif., and Hugo A. Schaefer, of Philadelphia, were flown to the scene from the U. S. Air Force Base of Wheelus near Tripoli.
The bodies are 85 miles from the well preserved bomber "Lady Be Good" which apparently made a forced landing on its way back from a raid on Naples, Italy, in 1943.
This points to a several-day trek under merciless heat in the desert, hundreds of miles from the caravan trails.
Fuller, who headed an unsuccessful search for the bodies last summer, said attempts will be made to identify them by dental and bone checks.
A further search is planned of the area for other remains which may be buried beneath the sand. The four-engined Liberator carried a crew of nine.

DISARMAMENT PLAN CALLED "URGENT" BY SEC. HERTER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said Thursday the spreading production of nuclear weapons makes a safeguard disarmament program urgent because soon almost any country in the world may get the power "to trigger off a nuclear war."
In a speech prepared for a National Press Club luncheon, Herter said "we are not so concerned with regard to the free nations which might be the next to produce nuclear weapons, but we are concerned lest the spread become wholly unmanageable."
He added:
"The more nations that have the power to trigger off a nuclear war, the greater the chance that some nation might use this power in haste or blind folly."
First Appearance
It was Herter's first appearance before the press club since becoming secretary of state, and he made it an occasion for a major address in relation to the forthcoming new East-West disarmament talks.
Herter said the United States is approaching the talks in earnest hope of reaching some accords with the Soviet bloc which will begin to bring the dangers of nuclear war under control.
"We approach these new negotiations," he also said, "with some hope that the Soviet leaders may be coming to realize that the arms race offers unacceptable risks. This realization could induce them to attach a high priority to progress in arms control, as being in their own national interest."

Eye Mate's Visit As Penal Reward
JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The Judiciary Committee of the Alaska House of Representatives Tuesday proposed a new incentive for good behavior in state penal institutions: Let honor prisoners have overnight visits from wives or husbands.
This would also help prevent families from breaking up, said committee chairman John Helenthal, a Democrat.
Visits would be limited to 24 hours every six weeks. Prisoners serving less than six months would not be eligible. Neither would those who hadn't been married six months when sentenced.

Charge Man With December Robbery
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A 29-year-old man faces charges of armed robbery in the Dec. 28 hold-up of the Signature Finance Co. of Dunmore.
George P. Davis of Old Forge was picked up in his car Thursday on a Scranton street and charged with the robbery. A 17-year-old Taylor youth also was arrested and sent to the House of Detention here.
Police said a sawed-off shotgun was found under the front seat of Davis' car. They added a red hood used in the $478 holdup also was found in the auto. Officers said both Davis and the youth would be questioned about other unsolved robberies in the area.
Meanwhile, Davis was scheduled for arraignment today before Justice of the Peace Nicholas Longo of Dunmore.

CENTURY OF MINING ENDS AT LANSFORD
LANSFORD, Pa. (AP) — More than 100 years of coal mining will end on March 1 in Panther Valley, where coal was discovered, according to a tale.
About 1,200 men, the last of 6,000 miners who worked the rich mines in the good days of the late 1940s, will lose their jobs.
They will swell the list of unemployed to an estimated 5,500 in this valley of 40,000 people.
But the valley, in east central Pennsylvania, still has one of the richest and largest anthracite deposits in the world.
The coal lands are owned by the Lehigh Valley Coal and Navigation Co. In 1954 the firm went out of the mining business, and 2,500 men lost their jobs.
But the company leased mines to two firms. In 1954 one of those firms—Panther Valley Coal Co.—terminated its lease, and 1,300 men lost their jobs.

Dean Offers New Code Of Rooting

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. Joseph M. Geib, dean of men at St. Joseph's College, has come up with a code of rooting for the student body.

First, says Father Geib, each student should feel a personal responsibility that no untoward incident occurs in St. Joseph's stands.

Secondly, continues Father Geib, all pep signs should be in a constructive vein and should not ridicule the opposing team or players.

A third point he makes is "support your team positively, not critically. If you don't want to cheer for other local colleges, keep quiet."

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Toby Lyons of Jamestown, N.Y., and St. Petersburg, dropped a 20-foot putt on the 18th hole and won the PGA National Club Championship.

Lyons went into Thursday's final round two strokes off the pace and battled stiff winds for a 74-70-72-75—291.

Thorne Wood of Asheboro, N.C., was second with a 73-70-71-78—292.

BRADLEY'S BRAVES WIN 14TH STRAIGHT

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The tune-ups are over for those blisterin' Bradley Braves. Now it's back to that duel with the Cincinnati Bearcats that'll decide the Missouri Valley Conference title, places in the NCAA and National Invitation Tournament fields and maybe the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press' national college basketball poll.

The Braves wound up their non-conference activity for the regular season Thursday night, toying with Oklahoma City 82-69 for their 14th straight victory and 20th in 21 games. Their five remaining games all are MVC challenges, beginning at North Texas State Saturday.

Cincinnati, top-ranked nationally all season, has much the same program remaining—except that the Bearcats are through with St. Louis.

New York University, an at-large selection for the NCAA tournament, snapped Holy Cross' 11-game win streak 74-60. St. Louis (15-6) improved its NIT chances with a 68-64 road victory over Wichita, and NCAA-bound Miami (Fla.) rolled to a 21-3 record, 121-85 over F. roldiaSorhnd. et Maryland, hitting 18 of 19 second half foul shots, nailed third place in the Atlantic Coast Conference 71-61 over Duke, and Utah kept on Utah State's heels in the Sky-line race, beating Denver 102-77.

NYU, now 14-3, walloped Holy Cross (16-3) in the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader after Seton Hall had kept its slim tourney hopes alive by taking the opener from Niagara 78-74.

In the A semifinals on March 12, the winner of the Capital Area Conference vs. Shippensburg game plays the Central Penn entry at the Farm Show Arena, Harrisburg. On the same date the Chambersburg vs. Spring Grove winner tackles the Warwick-Red Lion survivor at Steel-High.

NEW YORK'S AG MEETING TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — Will Roy Cohn's group get a license to promote boxing? Will Ingemar Johansson again fight Floyd Patterson in New York? Will they ever get through talking and start fighting?

Some of the answers may be forthcoming today. The New York State Athletic Commission has called a hearing on the application by Cohn's group (Feature Sports Inc.).

The commission and various authorities have been probing the promotion of the first heavyweight title fight last June and the contract for the rematch since late summer. The Cohn application has been on file since Dec. 30.

Cohn, former counsel to the Senate investigation subcommittee headed by the late Joe McCarthy, has become restive. He talked of taking the fight out of New York Wednesday, members of his group made an informal application for a New Jersey license, just in case.

WEDNESDAY IS JENKINS DAY

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — David Jenkins goes after the "big one" next Wednesday.

"This is the big one and then it's all over," said the three-time world figure skating champion from Colorado Springs, Colo. "Sixteen years of preparation and hard work and finally this is it."

The lithe, acrobatic Jenkins is the favorite to succeed his retired brother, Hayes Jenkins, as the Olympic figure skating king. David, now 23, finished third in the 1956 games.

"The Olympic gold medal is the big goal of my career," said Jenkins in an interview Thursday.

"One thing I'm thankful for. I'm in fine shape. I've been working out at Colorado Springs getting used to the high altitude again."

Jenkins had to take some examinations at Western Reserve University's Medical School. He has 2½ years to go at the Cleveland school.

Olympic Games Get Underway With Cross-Country Skiing

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — The Eighth Winter Olympics gets down to business today. The athletes take over and start gunning for the precious gold, silver and bronze medals.

And judging by the moving and dignified opening day ceremonies—which drew raves from almost everyone here from home and abroad—this still could be a magnificent show if the weatherman cooperates.

The Scandinavians were expected to dominate the first event, the men's 30-kilometer (18.6 miles) cross-country ski race.

48 In Ski Contest
Forty-eight long distance skiers were entered in the cross-country at McKinney Creek, 17 miles from here.

Thus, however, figured to be a battle among Finland's Veikko Hakulinen, the defending champion. Sixteen Jernberg, Sweden's "king of the skis," Norway's Hallgeir Brenden, and Kalevi Hämäläinen, another veteran Finnish ace.

The U.S., as usual, wasn't given a chance for a medal in this grind. Uncle Sam's entries include Leo Massia, Lake Placid, N.Y.; Mack Miller, Crested Butte, Colo.; Sven Johanson, Spenard, Alaska, and Joe Pete Wilson, Lake Placid, N.Y.

Pick Canadians
The spectacular Canadian team of Bob Paul and Barbara Wagner was the experts' pick in the pairs figure skating in the $3,500,000 Blyth Ice Palace.

These were the only championships on tap following the postponement of the men's downhill race to Feb. 22 because of Thursday's heavy snowfall.

The hockey program gets going tonight with the United States facing Czechoslovakia. Then Canada's favored seven opposes Sweden and the Soviet Union's defending champions meet Germany.

Open Delayed
In the figure skating pairs Canada's reigning and three-time world championship team was expected to receive its stiffest competition from the American championship husband-wife duo of Ronald and Nancy Ludington of Rye.

bury, Mass., and the German teenage tandem of Marika Kilus and Hans Baumeister. The other U.S. entrants include Maribel Owen and Dudley Richards of Rye, Mass., and Lia and Ray Hadley of Seattle, Wash.

The organizers of these troubled games, marred by squabbles, injuries, floods, and too much snow, were heartened by the fine reaction to Thursday's opening ceremonies.

The ceremony, however, was run off in just one hour.

15,000 There
Despite traffic snarls caused by a heavy snowfall, some 15,000 spectators somehow managed to reach this tiny valley nestled in the High Sierra. About 6,500 of them, clad in gay, multi-hued ski suits, gathered in the Blyth arena to watch the parade of 740 brightly attired athletes from 30 nations.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon braved the hazardous mountain roads, the last 40 miles of a 300-mile journey from Washington, to say just 15 words.

"I now declare open the Olympic games of Squaw Valley celebrating the Eighth Winter Olympics."

The games end Sunday, Feb. 28.

TEN COUNTIES IN RUNNING FOR HORSE RACING

HARRISBURG (AP) — Groups in at least 10 counties are hoping to get the question of parimutuel betting at harness tracks on the April 26 primary ballot despite the fact only four tracks probably will be authorized.

Petitions already have been filed with the State Harness Racing Commission for local option elections in Allegheny, Bucks, Fayette and Philadelphia counties.

A survey shows petitions are being circulated in Crawford, Erie, Lehigh, Monroe, Luzerne and Berks counties. Petitioners also are reported making the rounds in Delaware and Montgomery counties.

HOPE TO OPEN THIRD LEAGUE APRIL 18, 1961

HOUSTON (AP) — Branch Rickey says organizing the Continental League is like getting six young children ready for church.

"Only there are eight instead of six," said the 76-year-old Rickey as he began a second day of Houston conferences with league directors.

Rickey has set what he terms a firm target date — April 18, 1961 — but admits he will have to call on baseball Commissioner Ford Frick frequently for advice, guidance, and blessings.

He hunted broadly Frick may be asked to settle one of the Continental's most bothersome problems of the moment — Houston territorial rights.

May Ask Waiver
One of the 10 requirements the Continental must meet before being admitted into baseball as a third major league is possession of such rights.

Rickey and Bill Shea, the New Yorker who started the Continental boom, hunted broadly Frick may be asked to grant a waiver if efforts to settle the muddled Houston situation are unsuccessful.

Both said current owners of the American Assn. Houston Buffs are seeking too much money. Both emphasized that baseball requires that such asking prices be just and reasonable.

Cities in the new league are Denver, Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston, Atlanta, Minneapolis-St. Paul, New York, Toronto and Buffalo.

Duck Population Is Decreasing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A winter waterfowl survey for the Central Flyway showed a decrease of 42 per cent from the number estimated in that area last year, the Interior Department said today.

The flyway runs north and south in the Midwest and Rocky Mountain states. The big drop was in the duck population — down 47 per cent. The goose population was up 17 per cent in spite of a 20 per cent drop in Canada geese. The coot population was down 27 per cent.

The Pacific Flyway report, released by the department last week, showed a decrease of 14 per cent.

Wintering populations of canvasbacks, redheads and ruddy ducks — the three species which have been put in a precarious position by prolonged drought in nesting areas — showed a 70 per cent decline.

RICHMOND, Calif. — Fernando Sota, 122, Portugal, outpointed Benny Casing, 122, Stockton, Calif., 10.

NORTH MIAMI, Fla. — Ike Vaughn, 138, Cincinnati, outpointed Jimmy Mackey, 138, San Francisco, 10.

Mount Finishes Regular Season By Lacing W.Md. 98-78 For 18-5 Record

3 DEFENDING LOOP CHAMPS AT PLAYOFFS

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP) — The three defending state champions in public high school basketball have reached the first plateau in their bids for repeat titles.

Farrell (A), Kutztown (B) and West Reading (C) clinched league titles to earn playoff berths in their respective districts.

Farrell won the WPIAL Section III championship.

Kutztown and West Reading won in their Berks County (District 3) leagues, Kutztown in the Eastern Division and West Reading in the Western.

Somerset became the first 1960 PIAA district champion by beating Everett, 41-34, Tuesday night. There are only three Class A teams in District 5 and the champion is decided in a regular-season round-robin. Somerset's victory gave it a 3-0 mark, while Everett is 1-2 and Bedford 0-2.

Two key contests will be played in the east tonight: Coatesville at West Chester and Catasqua at Whitehall.

Coatesville, the first half champion, and West Chester are tied for the Ches-Mont League's second half lead.

Catasqua, unbeaten in 22 games and the first half champion, and Whitehall are tied for first place in the Lehigh Valley's second half campaign.

TUCSON OPEN IN 2ND ROUND

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Putting was the key to the $20,000 Tucson Open as it moved into today's second round.

Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass., putted "wonderfully well" Thursday for a 6-under-par 34-30-64 for the 6,413-yard, par 70 El Rio course. It was a 20-foot putt that dropped for an eagle three on the 510-yard 18th that gave him a one-stroke lead.

The pack of seven just behind the ex-Holy Cross star all credited putting for their 65s.

Arnold Palmer, Ligonier, Pa., bogeyed three holes before his putter shoved him back into contention with a 6-under-par 29 for the last nine and a 65.

The putter also was king with Gene Littler, the defending champ from Singing Hills, Calif., with 34-31; Charles Sifford, Los Angeles, possibly the greatest Negro player in the world, 31-34; rookie Mason Rudolph, Clarville, Tenn., 34-31; Bob Goalby, Crystal River, Fla., 33-32; Dave Marr, Cedarhurst, Long Island, 34-31, and Tom Nieporte, Bronxville, N. Y.

GARDEN FIGHT ON TV TONIGHT

NEW YORK (AP) — Len Matthews, a 20-year-old slugger from Philadelphia, and Lahouari Godhi, an Algerian-born Parisian with 61 pro fights, will try to stir up a little excitement tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Last time out Matthews knocked out Johnny Busso in 2:48 of the first round. He has stopped 14 opponents while compiling a 22-3-1 record in less than four years as a pro.

Godhi, 30, has been boxing since 1950 in the professional ranks and ever since he was old enough to put up his hands in the amateurs. When he left France in 1958 to campaign in this country, he relinquished the French lightweight title. His record is 51-8-2 with 12 knockouts.

The fight will be carried on network (NBC) radio and TV, starting at 10 p.m. (EST). Two judges and a referee will score it by rounds, using a supplementary point system in case of even rounds.

The truth is, it would be hard to find a more unique, complex, controversial individual than Daniel Edgar Sickles. He was identified in one fashion or another with all sorts of ventures and activities - some worthy and commendable, others questionable and unworthy of one endowed with unusual talents and initiative.

The following are two conflicting views of Sickles by contemporaries in the midst of his remarkable career.

"Here is a man, still in his prime, whose career has been as diversified and romantic as if he had filled out a full century of endless action x x x. Few characters in our country, or in our history, have passed through so many ordeals."

"One might as well try to spoil a rotten egg as to damage Dan's character."

Born in New York

Success, tragedy, crime, battle and mutilation, obloquy, neglect - he knew them all, but nothing could defeat him, not even himself.

When Daniel Edgar Sickles was born in New York City October 20, 1825, John Quincy Adams was President of the United States. Dan's father, George Garrett Sickles, was a shrewd patent attorney and politician whose ancestors, first named Van Sicklen, originated in Holland. The father was a brilliant individual, the mother a devout Episcopalian of charm and unusual gentleness. Their son, Daniel, was a handsome, blue-eyed, chestnut-haired boy, headstrong and impulsive, and disliking corporal punishment. He was, indeed, a problem child from the beginning.

His parents were alternately pleased with his quick wit, and appalled by his wilfulness. They felt if they could control his headstrong impulses he might make a mark for himself, and when he was about 15 they placed him in other hands for disciplinary supervision. This experiment failed when Dan had a disagreement with the master of the Glen Falls (New York) Academy and quit school in a rage.

Worked For Newspaper

Journalism fascinated him and he secured a position on the local newspaper. During this period he made the acquaintance of one Charles DaPonte, a philosophy professor and master of a half dozen languages. DaPonte captured Dan's imagination with the result that the rebellious school boy and the sensitive sophisticated scholar became fast friends. DaPonte was Dan's ideal and aroused in him a keen desire for a college education. His new friend not only tutored him for college but very graciously took him into the DaPonte home. The DaPonte family was a large one where culture and accomplishment reigned. The father and mother, sisters and brothers, talked in a half dozen languages. While Sickles was enjoying the hospitality of the DaPonte household and preparing himself for college under the guiding hand of his friend, Charles, one of the daughters married the maestro of the local opera company and in due time a little baby girl appeared on the scene. She was named Teresa and Dan was her captive.

Good Friend Dies

Within a few months Dan's good friend, Charles DaPonte died of pneumonia. Broken-hearted, Dan apprenticed himself to a leading law firm, studied hard, and eventually was admitted to the bar. From the start he was a success. Winning his first case, he won high praise from no less a personage than the Hon. Daniel Webster.

In politics Dan was equally successful becoming one of the spark plugs of Tammany and soon finding himself in the New York Legislature. All the while he was keeping in touch with little Teresa who was fast developing into a young lady of unusual beauty and attractiveness.

As this story has to do with but one phase of Dan Sickles' career I shall not dwell at length on his multiplicity of activities - at the bar, in politics, the military, and diplomacy.

Teresa was now 16 and Dan many years her senior, but they were in love and marriage was in the offing. Parents on both sides objected saying Teresa was much too young, but to prevent an inevitable run-away match both sides succumbed, and a fashionable New York wedding fulfilled Teresa's supreme desire. At the time, Dan was a New York assemblyman and Tammany chieftain.

Bride Was 16

Teresa was 16, Dan was 33. Possibly the gossips were right in saying that Dan seduced the young girl. Anyhow, he married her, and it unquestionably was a love match even though Dan's interpretation of marriage did not bind him to marital fidelity. He liked to set his own rules: he was born with undisciplined impulses no one had been able to curb. He was trained in the arena of Tammany politics where many a criminal gained high office. But if Dan had a bit of the scoundrel in him he combined it with magnificent gifts, not the least of which was his talent for making and retaining valuable friendships. During his tempestuous and unparalleled career he could count among his friends at least five Presidents of the United States: Pierce, Buchanan, Lincoln, Johnson and Grant, all of whom were helpful at one time or another. Horace Greeley and George Gordon Bennett also were dependable friends.

Compare this distinguished group, for example, with one Fanny White whose charms were for sale. Dan was enamored of Fanny and scandalized the Assembly at Albany by taking her to his sessions. His outrageous conduct shocked old-timers in the State Capitol, but, politically, they had to admit that the bold New Yorker was keen and able and one to be reckoned with. And Governor Marcy, grudgingly, admitted that Dan, as a parliamentarian, was unsurpassed.

Dan, too, was rising rapidly in the legal profession. He was regarded as one with a special aptitude for the law - careful in reaching his conclusions, but vigorous and forceful in presenting them.

Gets Political Plumb

In 1853 Dan's loyalty to Tammany was rewarded with a highly prized political plumb. He was made corporation counsel of New York City which paid a handsome salary. This was followed by his appointment, at the instance of the nationally known newspaper, man and friend of Buchanan, John W. Forney, as secretary to Buchanan who had just been made minister to England by President Franklin Pierce. One of Dan's reasons for taking the position was that it would place him at the side of Buchanan, one of the most powerful Democrats of the period. Buchanan had narrowly missed the Presidential nomination in 1852, and would doubtless get it in 1856.

Pierce liked Sickles, and was delighted with Dan's selection for the post. In September, 1853, Dan sailed for England leaving Teresa behind to join him later. In London Buchanan was highly pleased with his secretary. To his niece, Harriet Lane, who was at his Pennsylvania estate, the ambassador wrote: "Colonel Sickles is a very agreeable, able man. He possesses much energy of character and will make a favorable impression here. x x x Mrs. Sickles, I understand, will join her husband in the spring."

Teresa Is Acclaimed

When Teresa arrived in London in the spring of 1854, with her infant daughter, her natural charm, and her knowledge of languages, which she had acquired in the DaPonte household, made her an instant success in legation circles. And it is to be assumed that the notorious Fanny White, who had followed Dan to London, was sent back to New York by him to resume her questionable profession. Teresa became friendly with Harriet Lane, who had arrived that winter, and when it was necessary for the latter to return for a time to America, Teresa acted as the ambassador's hostess.

The next Presidential campaign was looming in the United States, and Buchanan was being urged to throw his hat into the ring; and while he was denying any such aspirations, he, nevertheless, was keenly interested, and Dan was enthusiastically promoting the project. Dan soon quit his London post and sailed for New York with Teresa and their baby in November. In New York he resumed his law practice and increased his efforts, along with Forney, in behalf of the Buchanan boom now rapidly gathering momentum.

Buchanan Elected President

Buchanan was elected President in the fall of 1856, and Dan to Congress from the Third New York District. With his election, and his intimacy with Buchanan, Dan was in an enviable political situation that might carry him far. He was an arresting figure, combining good looks with extraordinary ability and initiative.

President Buchanan's inaugural ball was gay and colorful, and at this point the other leading character in our story, Philip Barton Key, enters the picture; and a resume of his origin and background is in order.

Philip Barton Key, standing 6 feet, fastidious and nonchalant, with well-bred features, was considered the "handsomest man in Washington." His was a distinguished pedigree. Washington knew him as her United States district attorney, dilettante politician, and dean of the drawing rooms. He belonged to one of the most distinguished colonial families.

Fifty years before the signing of our Declaration of Independence (1726) his great-great-grandfather, Philip Key, was the first of the family to come to America from England. A young man, well educated, wealthy, of the cavalier type, and a friend of Lord Baltimore, the proprietor of Maryland, he secured from that nobleman a grant of land on which he built a pretentious mansion. His plantation was one of the most prosperous in the tidewater country. Barton Key's grandfather, John Ross Key, distinguished himself in our Revolution and subsequently married a daughter of the governor of Virginia Francis Scott Key, the author of our National Anthem, was Barton's father and his predecessor as United States attorney; and his father's sister, Anna, married Chief Justice Taney of Dred Scott Decision fame.

Of local interest is the fact that Francis Scott Key was a member of our Adams County Bar having been admitted August 25, 1802. His remains lie in nearby Frederick's Mt. Olivet Cemetery. Directly inside the main entrance to the cemetery is a beautiful memorial in his honor with his beloved Star Spangled Banner unfurled to the breeze. He spent his boyhood on his father's plantation near Taneytown, and first practiced law in Frederick before moving on to Washington.

INDONESIANS WELCOME "K"

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev got a rousing, red-carpet welcome Thursday from this neutralist nation, the best so far on his Asian tour.

He responded by warning President Sukarno not to pressure the Soviet Union too hard.

The Soviet Premier's cryptic remark was delivered in a half-joking, half-serious vein at a state banquet honoring his arrival.

"There are differences of opinion between us and President Sukarno," Khrushchev said as the Indonesian president sat nearby. "If you press me, these differences will grow wider."

Khrushchev did not elaborate. The most serious dispute between Indonesia's nationalist-minded president and the Communists is the government's campaign against Chinese traders in rural areas. The Chinese Communists have come to the defense of these merchants, mostly small capitalists with an admitted stranglehold on much of the nation's trade.

Chile in South America is rich in nitrates, iodine and copper.

McGonigle Suit Deadline Moved

WASHINGTON (AP)—An additional extension of time in a libel suit has been granted columnist Drew Pearson by U. S. District Judge Edward M. Curran.

The judge extended until May 18 the deadline for Pearson's counsel to signify whether he is ready to proceed with the suit. The latest deadline, extended several times previously, had been today.

The $300,000 suit against Pearson was filed by Arthur T. McGonigle, Reading, Pa., pretzel manufacturer and unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania in 1958.

McGonigle contends he was libeled by a Pearson column dealing with McGonigle's early activities in business.

Spirit Of Gift Not Quantity Counts Most

By REV. C. R. SIMMONS JR., PASTOR

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

TEXT: "Sitting down opposite the treasury. He watched the people putting their money into the treasury. A number of the rich were putting in large sums, but a poor widow came up and put in two little coins amounting to a half-penny. And He called His disciples and said to them, 'I tell you truly, this poor widow has put in more than all who have put their money into the treasury; for they have all put in a contribution out of their surplus, but she has given out of her neediness all she possessed, her whole living.'" St. Mark 12:41-44

THINGS WHICH COUNT

To many people the once-aspiring penny, which has rounded out many a good dollar, has almost become a worthless coin. Of what use is the penny today except to pay the tax on a quarter purchase? The little copper coin clutters up pocket or purse, but as for actual purchasing power it would appear to have little value. In a recent newspaper editorial it was suggested that the penny is useful only in church and continued, "It is interesting to note that in spite of the increased standard of living, the church till gets the pennies."

The church has been a great trailblazer taking civilization with it in most of its globe-trotting. How then, has it accomplished so much if through all the years it has had to depend largely upon the humble penny for support? Frequently, the above text is misinterpreted by people as reflected in their use of life, abilities and means. Simply because the Master praised the gift of the widow it would seem that many people believe in the value of small gifts. And more is accomplished by small gifts than could be imagined. For instance, consider the following story:

"Pennies For Palmer"
Within recent years the women of one major denomination completed a project that made it possible to build, equip, and staff a large hospital, and all because the little penny was called upon. The women in each parish was asked to fill a pint jar with pennies. At every meeting for a year the jar was brought forth and every one present dropped their pennies into it. With "Pennies For Palmer" as the slogan the total number collected made it possible for Palmer Alaska, to have a much-needed hospital.

But Jesus did not intend to praise the penny. The point He makes no doubt clear is the gift which counts is the gift which costs. He does not denounce the gifts which come out of surplus and abundance. Rather, true giving is to be measured relatively to what is left, not by size alone. Among all those contributing on that day the widow's sacrifice stirred Him to exclamation! Actually it was her next meal. While the actual purchasing power was small, yet in the sight of God who looks on the heart, here was big business. Not the proportion of her gift, but the quality of her heart lifted the gift out of the routine and placed it in the realm of sacrifice.

No Gift Too Small
Like so many in our day, she could have used the easy, reasonable justification for withholding her two small coins: "What difference could two pennies make? They are too small to count at all. Let those give who can afford it. No one will ever notice whether I give or not." Most of us know our hearts from start to finish — and at the finish the two coins are in our pocket. But in God's sight no gift is too small to count, no talent too unimportant for use in the Kingdom. Likewise, nothing escapes the notice of God from Whom no secret is hid.

Think how great and many have been the gifts which have come out of poverty! Among them are gifts of life, of thought, of skill, of devotion that have brought the Kingdom of God a little closer to all men. No man is ever so little nor so poor but that he can share with his fellow man to their mutual good. Every human being has a quality or qualities which if used unselfishly could enrich our society in its spiritual poverty. Not only do we have something to share, but our spirit in giving could and should be more humble, more unselfish. There are many things which count in this life, but the chief among them is the unselfish spirit of liberality whose source is God Himself. Let's make our life count — FOR OTHERS!

The High Places

Does the goal you're seeking seem as remote—as unattainable—as this snow-frosted mountain top? Does it seem, sometimes, as if you'll never get there? Are you on the verge of giving up?

Don't! Though your objective may seem light-years beyond your reach, if it's the right thing for you, God will help you to attain it, if you'll let Him. The teachings of His Church will help you find the patience and endurance you need to accept setbacks . . . and still keep trying.

Don't try to climb to the top all by yourself. It's a lonely ascent. Let the Church help you, as it helped those who were here before you . . . and as it will help those who come after you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Home Cooking", Friendly Atmosphere Make Dutch Cupboard Widely Known

The homelike atmosphere and the tasty "home-cooking" has established a wide reputation for the Dutch Cupboard on Baltimore St. as a fine eating place and has brought many comments — and return trips—from satisfied patrons from near and far.

The Dutch Cupboard, which has served folk from every state in the union and many foreign lands in the seven years it has been in operation here under the ownership of Mr. and Mrs. S. Lester Scott, is favorably known not only for its good food and pleasant surroundings but also for the friendly consideration customers receive from hostesses, waitresses and cashiers.

Its widely varied menus offer patrons a broad selection of foods, but there are some staples that appear every day.

17 Meats, 22 Vegetables

Customers find 17 meats to choose from on the menu but every day they will find schnitz un knepp. The daily menu has 22 vegetables and there are salads and sandwiches for diners who do not wish a full course dinner.

Tasty cooking is done by expert cooks trained under the careful eye of Mrs. Scott who takes special pride in the homemade breads that are prepared there. Pure butter is used in all seasoning and food preparation operations.

Homemade pies from the Dutch Cupboard kitchens has won a niche in the restaurant's hall of famous dishes. There is a daily choice of six kinds of homemade pies on the menu and among them always is the big favorite in Pennsylvania Dutch cookery—shoo-fly.

Family Style Dinners

Another Dutch Cupboard trademark—the family style dinner—has done as much as any other feature of the good eating at the Dutch Cupboard to win fame for the local eating place.

A family-style dinner at the Dutch Cupboard goes something like this: The opening course, a choice of two meats, five vegetables, schnitz un knepp, assorted relishes, homemade breads, schmierkase and apple butter, a beverage and a choice of desserts. There are children's menus, too, and the youngsters receive special attention in the kitchen and from the waitresses.

Redecorating, Enlarging

There is always special handling for "reservations" made in advance and for private parties. For private parties there are special menus available that can be tailored to suit any budget.

The Dutch Cupboard has redecorated its private parties rooms and the porch dining room is being enlarged. Kitchen facilities are being expanded and improved to speed up and improve the service to customers.

Bears Famous Labels

The enlarged kitchen will continue to provide all of the breads, pies, soups and desserts served at the restaurant.

At this season of the year, the Dutch Cupboard is open daily from 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Attesting to the fine quality of the food and service are the Duncan Hines sign that swings in front of the restaurant and the eating place's listing in the exclusive "Gourmet."

Laugh Insurance Found Too Costly

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Backers of a charity comedy revue gave up on the idea of buying a million-dollar insurance policy to cover anyone in the audience who dies laughing. Turned out it's not so simple. And it would cost $5,000 for two hours, under terms set forth by Lloyd's of London, a famed firm which specializes in off-beat insurance policies. "They'll just have to laugh at their own risk," William Loeb, chairman of the show sponsoring Easter Seal campaign, said Thursday.

Population of Egypt is about 18 million persons.

In its seventh year of business in Gettysburg and with its fame growing as a fine eating place, the Dutch Cupboard on Baltimore St. is being enlarged and sections of the restaurant are being redecorated. The porch dining room is being expanded and kitchen facilities are being enlarged and improved to give better service to the mounting number of patrons that go to the Dutch Cupboard for good food in a homely atmosphere. URGES SENATE TO PASS CIVIL RIGHTS BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois urged today that the Senate pass a civil rights bill as quickly as possible rather than wait for the House to act.

This was in direct conflict with the reported strategy of the Democratic leadership to let the House pass a bill first and then to try to prevail on the Senate to accept the measure.

A bill embodying most but not all of the Eisenhower administration's civil rights program was cleared for House consideration next month by a 7-vote of the House Rules Committee Thursday.

Time Element

The committee also specifically provided for consideration of an amendment to carry out the administration proposal for court-appointed referees to protect Negro voting rights.

However, Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), the committee chairman, said the bill will be called up in the House until March 10.

This means it probably will be March 16 or 17, and possibly several days later, before the House will be able to pass the bill and send it to the Senate.

In the Senate, the civil rights debate started Monday when an unrelated House-passed bill was called up and thrown open to civil rights amendments.

Speeches Touched Off

Dirksen has offered an amendment embracing all of the administration's civil rights proposals, touching off a continuing round of lengthy speeches by Southern foes.

Democratic leaders hope to get the Senate to accept a House-passed civil rights bill without change and send it directly to President Eisenhower. If the Senate and House pass different versions, the legislation might get snagged again in the House Rules Committee before it could go to a conference committee for adjustment of differences.

Dirksen suggested, however, that the process could be reversed—that the House could accept a Senate bill and send it on to the White House.

Movie Industry Is Facing Strike

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The directors of the Screen Actors Guild has approval of the Guild membership for a strike against the movie industry.

More than 83 per cent of 7,245 votes were for strike authorization, the guild announced Thursday. But the guild says the strike vote does not necessarily mean a strike. The guild is seeking payment for actors if post-1948 major studio movies are sold to television.

The big studios claim the actors were paid once for their work, and that's enough. The guild notes that independent producers have agreed to pay actors residual fees on post-1948 films.

COURT BATTLE IS SHAPING UP ON PINBALLS

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A court battle over several hundred multi-coin pinball machines is shaping up in Cambria County.

The illegal machines were seized Wednesday by state police in a Gallitzin building owned by Frank Salvaggio, a Gallitzin councilman.

Salvaggio's attorney, Arnold Smolto, asked the commonwealth Thursday to show cause why the machines should not be returned to their owners.

Decision In March

At the same time, Dist. Atty. Ferdinand Bionaz filed a petition asking Salvaggio to show cause why the machines should not be destroyed.

The conflict will not be solved until at least late next month when a hearing on the petitions probably will be held. Judge David C. Wolfe said.

Dist. Atty. Bionaz first said the police got 500 machines, but a further check showed they took 275 complete machines and the backs of 300 others.

Appeal Pending

Smolto claimed that the State Supreme Court decision last November does not apply to the circumstances of the Salvaggio case. The Supreme Court has upheld a Fayette County Court ruling that multi-coin pinball machines were illegal.

The state then gave owners until Jan. 1 to remove the machines from Pennsylvania. An appeal from the court's ruling is now pending before the U. S. Supreme

BOYLE SAYS PAAR IS NEW HERO OF U. S.

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato: Every human being has his own particular daydream of glory, but few of us ever manage to make it come true.

This is why Jack Paar is in a fair way to becoming the man of the year—the hero of 1960—to millions of Milquetoast Americans.

He made one of his favorite daydreams come true. We all do have a favorite daydream, a bit of inner fantasy we often hide from a prying world because it seems so impossible of achievement.

A Universal Daydream

But there is one particular daydream which probably all of America's 64 million jobholders have shared at one time or another. This is the daydream in which you march into the boss's office and tell him with a splendid, offhand nonchalance: "The board has voted a small change in management, and I thought you ought to be the first to know you're working for me now."

Since we are so dependent on a payroll, we come to have a half-hated, half-fear of both our job and our boss because it is human nature to dislike being too dependent on anything.

This feeling is expressed in sayings common in every office or factory.

The Grim Reminder

"Don't ever forget, you can be replaced."

"The boss may not always be right, but he is always the boss."

"There is no such thing as an indispensable man."

Yes, at one time or another we all wish we had the gumption to fire the boss, then stalk grandly out of the office amid the applause of our more cowardly fellow workers. But few of us ever do. We remain a grandiose hero only in our daydreams.

All But Paar

But not Jack Paar. He may be right or wrong in his quarrel with the National Broadcasting Co. over whether a comedian has an inalienable privilege to tell an old joke about water closets. He may be a new Will Rogers to some, or a self-pitying hero to others. One thing he did do. He not only staged the greatest one-man strike since Achilles sulked in his tent. He fired a whole television network.

Who ever had a wilder daydream of glory and made it come true, right there in the awed gaze of the whole world?

He came as close as anyone we know of to proving he is what we'd all like to be, the indispensable man we've been told doesn't exist.

FORECASTING BONANZA IN PENNA. SKIING

HARRISBURG (AP)—Skiing in Pennsylvania is moving toward a recreational and economic bonanza, a State Commerce Department official reported today.

"Local groups are beginning to realize not only the tremendous recreational value within a community of having a local skiing area, but also the great economic effect," said tourist promotion supervisor Leonard Randolph.

"There is a groundswell of interest in skiing and winter sports in general throughout the country," said Randolph. "The reason Pennsylvania's skiing industry has not advanced further is that no one before this year made a concerted effort to exploit and push it."

"Pennsylvania's natural resources—slopes and snow—are just as good as any other Atlantic Coast state, with the exception of Vermont."

The number of major ski areas in Pennsylvania was boosted to nine this season with the addition of Elk Mountain north of Scranton and Snow Peak east of Corry in Erie County, Randolph said.

The other ski areas mentioned by Randolph are Big Boulder near White Haven; Laurel Mountain Slopes east of Ligonier; Camp T. Frank Soles, west of Somerset; Seven Springs, south of Donegal; Zippo Ski Slope near Bradford; and Camp Mystic south of Erie.

In addition, the state itself opened Denton Hill State Park near Coudersport in December.

HIGHWAY DEPT. DIVIDES STATE IN 3 DISTRICTS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Reorganization of State Highways Department engineering operations divides Pennsylvania into three regional districts.

Highways Secretary Park H. Martin, in announcing the change Thursday said it would not replace the present 11 district organizations.

He said the regional directors would be responsible for evaluating field activities on the basis of department policies, standards, programs and construction schedules, recommending any necessary changes.

Three New Directors

Martin said the change was approved last week by the State Executive Board, which also authorized creation of the three new regional directorships.

Martin appointed Leonard J. Curran, district engineer at Pittsburgh, to head the new western region, comprising 18 counties; Walter Fries, department plans engineer, as regional engineer for the 23-county central region; and Raymond F. Campbell, Martin's special assistant, as head of the eastern region's 26 counties.

Robert Klueher, Harrisburg district engineer, was named to replace Curran in the Pittsburgh district and James C. Whaley, assistant district engineer at Scranton, was appointed to succeed Klueher in Harrisburg.

Other Changes

Frank Hollister, department budget examiner, was named special assistant to replace Campbell.

Martin said the reorganization is in line with recommendations of the Automobile Safety Foundation, which studied the department's operations in 1958 and 1959. The western region will include Warren, Forest, Jefferson, Indiana, Westmoreland, Fayette and those counties to the west.

The eastern region will include Tioga, Lycoming, Union, Snyder, Schuylkill, Berks, Chester and those counties to the east.

Both the eastern and central regions will have headquarters here. The western office will be in Pittsburgh.

Baseball Coach At Temple Resigns

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ernie Casale has retired as head baseball coach at Temple University because his duties as athletic director require all his time.

Casale also announced Thursday James (Skip) Wilson, the assistant baseball coach, would be the new head coach.

Casale became athletic director last July 1, succeeding Josh Cody, who retired. He had been baseball coach since 1953.

Doomed Chessman Is Saved By State Department Plea

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman, condemned to death 12 years ago as a convicted sex kidnaper, won his eighth reprieve from the San Quentin gas chamber early today after an appeal from the U.S. Department of State.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, acting against all odds and in the face of a California Supreme Court recommendation opposing clemency, ordered a 60-day stay less than 10 hours before Chessman was scheduled to die.

Wants Law Changed
The governor said he ordered the stay because of a State Department telegram warning that execution of Chessman might lead to hostile demonstrations in Uruguay and Brazil against President Eisenhower during the President's forthcoming visit to South America.

The governor, an avowed foe of capital punishment, also said he would make a special call to the state Legislature, which reconvenes Feb. 29, to consider abolition of the death penalty.

Chessman, the most notorious American prisoner of modern times, had excited worldwide attention by his long struggle to escape death through legal technicalities.

With little knowledge of the basic evidence, hundreds of thousands of persons in scores of countries had demonstrated and petitioned that Chessman be spared.

Ironically, the State Department telegram which saved him was almost lost in the thousands of telegrams pouring into the governor's office, urging clemency.

Cecil Poole, the governor's clemency secretary, happened to open it, and the stay was ordered shortly after midnight.

Chessman, scheduled to enter the gas chamber at 10 a.m., Pacific Standard Time was whisked out of the "waiting room" cell next to the green-painted gas chamber and returned to the death row cell on San Quentin's sixth floor—the cell which has been his home since July 3, 1948.

Gov. Brown signed July 3, 1948, an executive order which gave him the power to issue any oral commutation but issued through his secretary an announcement of the stay, in which he quoted the following telegram from Roy R. Rubottom Jr., assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs:

"Through our embassy in Montevideo, the national council of the government of Uruguay has tonight (Thursday) brought to urgent attention of State Department grave concern of council over anticipated hostile demonstrations of student elements and others to Chessman execution when our President visits Uruguay March 2."

In Washington, Rubottom said he sent the telegram after conferring "with my superiors" and "there were other expressions of concern about the case, I think from Brazil."

They were named as Maceo Antonio Binns Jr., 31-year-old handyman, and Herbert Odell Monte, 17-year-old student at Horace Mann High School for Negroes.

Binns and Monte were charged with damaging property with explosives, the same charge brought against five white men in three bombings here last September.

FBI In On Case
The home of Carlotta Walls, 16, was bombed the night of Feb. 9. She is one of eight Negroes who now attend once-white high schools here.

The bombing was believed to be the first directed at the home of an integrated Negro student in the South since the U.S. Supreme Court ordered desegregation of schools in 1954.

The arrest of Binns and Monte was announced jointly by police and the FBI who offered no motive.

No One Injured
The Little Rock School Board office, the business office of Mayor Werner Knopp and a city owned station wagon were dynamited last night.

No one was injured in any of the bombings.

Carlotta, her mother and two young sisters, were in the six-room brick house when the bombings occurred. The brickman, Cartel Walls, 37, a fatherless, was visiting his father up the street when the blast occurred.

Carlotta was the youngest of nine Negroes who integrated Central High under guard of federal troops in the fall of 1957. She is one of five Negroes now attending Central. Three Negroes attend Hall High.

Binns and Monte were arrested Thursday afternoon. They were questioned throughout most of the night before the arrests were announced early today.

FINCH JURY LOCKED UP FOR 4 DAYS

By DIAL TORGERSON
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Finch murder trial jury has been suddenly locked up for four days because, the judge says, "the air is tense."

A defense source suggested that one reason may have been today's scheduled execution of Caryl Chessman. The convict-author was given a 60-day reprieve shortly after midnight.

After prosecution and defense ended their cases Thursday in the long trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his pretty paramour, charged with murdering his wife, Superior Judge Walter R. Evans made the announcement.

"Air Is Tense"
"You are all aware," he told the jury, "of the widespread publicity this case has received, and if I may use the term 'some pressure' in and around us, you can just tell the air is tense."

The judge said "for your own benefit, your own protection, the court is going to order at this time that the sheriff take you into custody and take care of you from here on."

Sheriff's cars and family members brought jurors' overnight bags. The 12 jurors and 3 alternates were lodged in eight rooms on the 10th floor of a hotel—without radios, newspapers or television. Guards patrolled the halls.

No Guards Today
"I think a good part of this is the Chessman thing," a member of the Finch defense suggested anonymously, without elaboration, after the judge ordered the jury locked up.

The handsome, wealthy Dr. Finch, 42, and shapely Carolee Tregoff, 23, are charged with murdering his wife last July 18 outside the Finch estate in suburban West Covina. The surgeon testified socialite Barbara Jean Finch, 36, was shot accidentally as they struggled over a pistol.

There was no trial session today because of a legal huddle in the judge's chambers. There will be no court Monday because of Washington's birthday. Final arguments are expected to start Tuesday. They may last most of the week.

CUBBERS TO MEET
The officials and den mothers of Cub Scout Pack 84 will meet at the home of Mrs. Donald C. Feesser, Prince St., on Monday at 8 p.m. Spring activities of the pack will be planned.
